MISSION MINUTES

A radical Hindu mob recently attacked a Christian family in India after they refused to participate in a Hindu reversion ceremony. The mob tore down the roof of the family's home, leaving everyone exposed to heavy monsoon rains and unable to live safely in the structure. A group of nearly 100 anti-Christian activists surrounded the home of "Kamal Sinha" to force him to convert. When Sinha refused, tensions escalated, and the mob climbed onto the roof and ripped it apart. "All of our harvested crops were drenched in the rainwater after the roof was destroyed," Sinha said. Pray for the persecuted believers across the world.
